We stay at home these days 1 the outbreak of the novel coronavirus (新型冠状病毒). However, a large number of volunteers, doctors and nurses have risked(冒险) 2 lives to work in order to save patients. Meanwhile, community workers across the country have tried hard to stop the virus. They all deserve our respect and love.

Inspired(激励) by them, I thought I should do something 3 and meaningful. It would not only be 4 unforgettable experience for me, but also a good way to show support and thanks.

I 5 a volunteer team last year. Days before Women's Day, the team started an activity to send vegetables to community workers.

Some volunteers first went to a local farm and spent the whole day 6 hundreds of kilos of vegetables. They packed them into 200 bags.

One afternoon, together 7 my friends, I sent these vegetables to workers at different community centers, especially female workers. Though Women's Day was coming, they still kept working day and night for their communities. I was really grateful to them.

We were tired after two 8 of work, but we felt happy and proud. It is well worth taking part in 9 like this. We teenagers cannot go to the frontlines, but we can indeed do 10 to give a hand. I am sure that we will finish fighting the virus someday in the near future.
